

Short Essay

1-3. Write three to five sentences on each of the characters from your webs. Describe their character traits (personality) based on what you read in the first two chapters. For each of the characters, include something from the book that they did or said to support your description. (Use your character webs!)

4. In a four to six sentence paragraph, answer the question Lemry poses to her class in Chapter 2: Is the world good or bad? Explain your answer. Using real world examples is encouraged to support your answer.
